

New Brief on the Science of Early Childhood Development

1/14/2009

The Science of Early Childhood Development is the first in a series of summaries of presentations given at the National Symposium on Early Childhood Science and Policy, which was held in June 2008. This brief looks at the basic concepts of early childhood development, established over decades of research.

Read the brief